STATINTL

[REDACTED] the DCI Training Officer, alerted me by telephone this morning that he was sending the attached papers on [REDACTED] to me. [REDACTED] is aware that the Brookings deadline has passed and that the Training Selection Board met almost a month ago on these programs but requested that I try to get [REDACTED] enrolled for the 3 - 8 February session in San Francisco.

STATINTL

STATINTL

I have checked with Brookings by telephone and they will consider a late nomination.

In view of the impressive exchange of correspondence attached, I defer to you but would recommend that I try to get him enrolled - with perhaps a quick telephone poll to the Board members.

Go it!

Note for Mr. Colby

Bill,

Want it? Yes. Exposure to business is a useful, broadening device -- so are constructive trips to DOD field installations, including

STATINTL

Need it? Some, but not critical. The issue is where best someone in my role can place his time to keep up with what's going on out there. I do a lot through the University affiliation, Harvard, etc., but business exposure has declined in the past years.

February is a good time but I also want to visit NSA installations sometime so if it is one or the other I'd bypass Brookings.

Note for General Allen

Lew,

The Agency has deferred three separate times on my attending selected Brookings programs. Each time they have had to be scratched because of hearings, etc. (events beyond our control).

The February offering looks just about right time-wise. I'd like to try again.

Conference for on Issues in Science and Technology

Five one-week conferences are held in selected cities in which the corporate offices of major U.S. business firms are located. The conferences are designed to broaden perspectives on the role of business in American society and on the international scene.

Senior federal executives meet with the officers of nine or ten leading corporations to explore the philosophy and operations of the corporation, the development and execution of corporate policies, the responsibilities, motivations and outlook of corporate officials, and the impact of government on the private sector of the economy. Supplementing this first-hand exposure to the world of corporate management are occasional dinner sessions with thoughtful observers of economic, social and political trends in contemporary society.

Preparatory readings are a part of the program but the heart of the educational process is informal and frank discussion. Dates and locations of the 1973-74 conferences are as follows:

October 28 - November 2, 1973

Los Angeles

December 2-7, 1973

New York City

February 3-8, 1974

San Francisco

April 21-26, 1974

Atlanta

May 12-17, 1974

Chicago

The conference fee is $500, and covers tuition, reading materials, group meals and related educational costs, excluding lodging and travel to and from the conference city. Nominees should be in grades GS-16 to GS-18, or equivalent. GS-15's will be considered on an exception basis.

other top officials

Four six-day conferences for senior scientists, administrators of science programs, and engineering executives will be conducted in Williamsburg or Virginia Beach, Virginia, during 1973-74.

These conferences will consider broad questions of the relationships of science and technology to public policy.

Each participant group is comprised of senior science executives, including the biological, engineering, mathematical, medical, physical and social sciences from the federal government. The meetings provide an opportunity for these executives to meet in an educational setting—free of operational stresses—to reflect on and discuss national science policy and American society. Nationally prominent academicians and leaders from public and private life serve as speakers and resource persons. Each session is off the record and encourages an exchange of ideas drawing on participant knowledge and experience, analysis of background readings, and views of the speaker. Conferences will be held on the following dates:

September 30 - October 5, 1973

November 11-16, 1973

February 10-15, 1974

May 12-17, 1974

The conference fee is $500 and covers tuition, reading materials, and related educational costs. Excluded are American Plan hotel costs and travel to and from the conference location. Nominees should be in grades GS-16 to GS-18 or equivalent. GS-15's will be considered on an exception basis.

7 March 1973

MEMORANDUM IN LIEU OF FITNESS REPORT

STATINTL SUBJECT: [REDACTED] M, GS-13,
SD: E, Comptroller/IC, DCI/IC/CCG, Career Appt.,
Annual/Reassignment of Supervisor, Reporting Period:
1 January 1972 - 7 March 1973

STATINTL 1. Mr. [REDACTED] came to the IC staff from the CIA Planning, Programming and Budgeting office coincident with the reorganization of the staff after the President's 5 November 1971 directive. He organized the Community Comptroller Group (CCG), staffed it, and launched it on a course of study of the national intelligence program. The product of this included preparation for the DCI's first Congressional briefing on the community, the drawing up of a National Intelligence Program Memorandum (NIPM) and participation on behalf of the DCI in many of the community's program review processes. In addition to a continual relationship with members of the community, Mr. [REDACTED] also had useful and productive contacts with Congressional staffs and with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). STATINTL

STATINTL 2. Mr. [REDACTED] performance, as it had been in past assignments, has been characterized by aggressive pursuit of objectives, creative thinking and considerable dynamic leadership of those subordinate to him. The result has been a creative year, which has pointed the way to the kind of new initiatives essential in the months ahead, if the work of the staff is to maintain momentum. It has been a considerable performance carried out in the face of a number of unavoidable difficulties. He sets high standards for himself and is thus properly not satisfied with all that has been accomplished; nonetheless I consider this to have been a thoroughly productive pioneer year.

STATINTL 3. Mr. [REDACTED] remains ideally suited to support further the DCI's oversight of the national intelligence program and his performance during the reporting period has been outstanding.
